GRIM DEATH STALKS 'DAYS OF OUR LIVES'!

The characters played by Peter Reckell (above) and Joe Mascolo meet grim deaths on upcoming episodes of 'Days of Our Lives'

THE 50th anniversary of "Days of Our Lives" is being marked by a shocking bloodbath!

In a blockbuster exclusive, GLOBE can reveal TWO favorite stars are being killed off the NBC soap.

Insiders reveal one of the actors asked to be axed — and the other, tragically, was given the shove.

When Peter Reckell, 60, who's played Bo Brady on and off since 1983, left the show three years ago, he swore he'd never return, says a source.

"But this year, he finally relented — but with one stipulation," says the insider.

"He'd only play Bo for a short run — and producers had to kill him off for good! He got his wish.

"Although he is still being seen on the show because it tapes four months ahead, his death scene is in the bag. He is finished."

Meanwhile, fan favorite Joe Mascolo, who portrays villain Stefano DiMera, got his walking papers.

Mascolo, 86, who joined the cast in 1982, has suffered health woes this year, including a secret hospitalization, says the source.

As a result, Joe, who uses a wheelchair and a walker, worked only two days a week, says the insider, who notes the actor had a hard time remembering his lines.

"Producers decided they had to let him go," says the insider. "It was tough for execs to break the news to him.

"And it was a very sad day when he taped his gruesome death scene, which is yet to air."

But in true soap tradition, producers changed their minds two weeks later. The insider says, "The Stefano character is coming back from the dead — as a ghost!"

VALERIE LOSES FOOD FIGHT!

TV cooking show is sinking acting career

WEIGHT-loss poster girl Valerie Bertinelli is ballooning again — and friends fear the TV favorite is chewing up her acting career!

The 55-year-old “Hot in Cleveland” star has gained back much of the 40 pounds she shed as a Jenny Craig pitchwoman six years ago — a loss that led to her famously showing off her svelte figure in a string bikini!

Pals blame her battle with the bulge on her Food Network show, now in its second season!

“I have gained a few pounds,” even Valerie admits.

“On ‘Valerie’s Home Cooking,’ she shares her family recipes — and she’s packing on the pounds from sampling the food she’s making,” says a friend.

Valerie rustles up such goodies as brownies, spaghetti and meatballs, salted chocolate cake, lasagna and even a special favorite — Quiche Valerie.

“These recipes are calorie-laden — and she can’t resist them,” says the source.

New photos of the former “One Day at a Time” cutie show her bloated face and her expanding hips and waistline.

“She uses a long scarf and cross-body bag to try to hide her wide girth, but it’s not working,” says a source.

And she’s not going to cut back!

“There’s not much you can do about it except bring your portion sizes way down — and I’m not about to do that,” declares Valerie, wed to second hubby Tom Vitale, a financial planner.

Says a pal, “We’re really worried she’s jeopardizing her acting career.”

Alice’s snakes used to fly first class — now boa Christopher is his bus buddy!

COOPER CHARMED BY SEXY SQUEEZE!

SHOCK rocker Alice Cooper insists his pet snake Christopher is gay — because the serpent “kisses me with his tongue!”

The 67-year-old gender-bending musician, whose real name is Vincent Damon Furnier, calls the creature “very affectionate.”

“Every snake has a different personality,” Alice notes. “Some are curious, some just want to stretch out. Christopher likes to get in my face and kiss me with his tongue. I’m starting to think my snake is gay.”

While most people probably prefer dogs and cats as companions, Alice adores the 3-year-old boa constrictor, explaining, “We both love being in front of an audience. We’re also both great on the road — we love traveling long distances. My heavy metal doesn’t bother Christopher at all because snakes are pretty much deaf and blind.”

TOXIC PLASTIC IS KILLING

Now Elvis' ex

RAVAGED by toxic plastic surgery, Priscilla Presley is finally telling all about her life with Elvis and friends fear it's because she's dying of dangerous cosmetic procedures — including having a banned substance injected into her face.

In jolting disclosures, the 70-year-old is suddenly revealing for the first time amazing intimate details including:

- Why her marriage to the King of Rock 'n' Roll was doomed.

- The real reason America HATED her.

- Her touching last phone call with Elvis.

Shocking new photos show the mom of Elvis' only child Lisa Marie looking skeletal with sunken cheeks, grotesque puckered lips and scarring on the sides of her mouth.

"Anyone who has seen her has to be worried about her," says the source. "This could be the end."

Her confessions about Elvis include her belief their fairytale marriage was doomed from the start due to the impossible pressure of life with the world's most famous man.

"It was difficult, especially at a young age, being a new wife and automatically being a new mother and being in rock and roll," she confesses.

"I wanted to be a mom and yet, I traveled a lot and Elvis wanted me to be with him. It was a tug of war trying to make it all work."

Priscilla's face has changed dramatically. Today, she's ravaged by bad plastic surgery, which destroyed the beauty she had in 1976 (right)

STIC SURGERY G PRISCILLA!

-wife is telling all before she dies -pals fear

Priscilla also notes Presley fans detested her, saying, “I was hated for marrying him, hated for getting a divorce.”

But what fans didn’t know was that she was “trying desperately to be a good wife ... a good mother ... a good companion. It was a hard road.”

Still, Priscilla calls Elvis, who died at age 42, the “love of her life” and says they remained close after their 1973 divorce.

Tragically, she spoke with him on the phone just days before his shocking 1977 death — triggered by drug abuse and poor health.

She says HE was excited about an upcoming tour while SHE expressed concerns about his health.

“But Elvis felt he was OK,” she says. “He wasn’t someone who you could just say, ‘You need to really take care of yourself ...’

“It was hard for anyone to do anything because, ultimately, it was his decision and he felt he was fine.”

Her fond memories include their first night as man and wife after marrying in a posh private suite at Las Vegas’ Aladdin Hotel.

After the ceremony, Elvis,

Elvis and Priscilla hug daughter Lisa Marie

32, and his 21-year-old bride jetted to his Palm Springs house onboard Frank Sinatra’s Learjet.

“Elvis carried me across the threshold of our house singing ‘The Hawaiian Wedding Song,’” she says.

“He stopped and gave me a long, loving kiss, then proceeded to carry me up the stairs to our bedroom. Elvis carefully placed me in the middle of our king-size bed.”

They had been together for seven years, and had “slept together — but had never been intimate,” she wrote in her 1985 book, “Elvis and Me.”

“I remember how nervous we both were. Gently, his lips touched mine. Then he looked deeply into my eyes. ‘My wife,’ he said softly, as he drew me close. ‘I love you’ and she “went from child to woman.”

But now cosmetic surgery disasters have destroyed the looks of the stunning beauty.

She took injections of a “miracle anti-wrinkle serum” that turned out to be a car parts lubricant banned by the Food & Drug Administration.

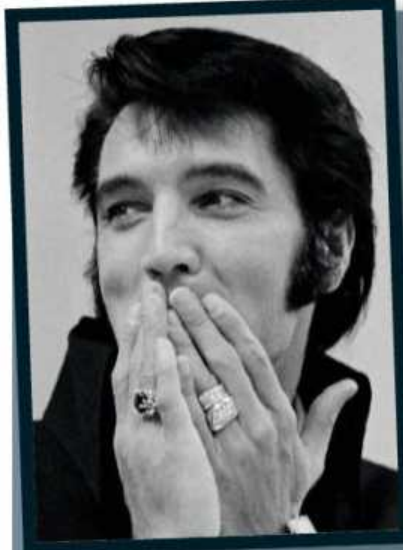

The unlicensed “doctor” who disfigured her gorgeous face, Daniel Serrano, was tabbed “Dr. Jiffy Lube” and booted back to his native Argentina.

Priscilla claims she’s fully recovered, but a medical expert says the damage is “permanent” because “you can never remove it all.”

Her tell-all interviews coincide with the release of a blockbuster new Elvis album, If I Can Dream: Elvis Presley With the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra.

The album, reintroduces 14 tracks that Elvis recorded between 1956 and 1973, including Love Me Tender, with a new orchestral accompaniment.

“She’s cementing Elvis’s legacy,” says the friend. “And, sadly, you just have to wonder if this is her goodbye.”

THE KING WAS FREAKED OUT OVER GERMS!

ELVIS Presley wasn’t afraid of drugs, guns or wild women. But there was one thing that left the King of Rock ‘n Roll all shook up: GERMS!

Ex-wife Priscilla Presley reveals the music legend was such a germophobe he toted around his own knives and forks!

“He never liked to go to people’s homes to eat because he didn’t like eating with other people’s silverware, so he would take his own silverware,” Priscilla says.

“And he didn’t like drinking out of cups that other people had drunk out of, even restaurants or other people’s homes.

“So when he drank, he would drink where the handle was, knowing that no one would ever drink at that side.”

HARRY PATI

Demands DNA te

OUT-OF-CONTROL Camilla has completely gone off the rails, taunting Prince Harry she can prove her husband, Prince Charles, is NOT the redhead's real father!

Furious Camilla dropped the bombshell on Harry, 31, after he dared to confront her about her vicious attacks on his brother William's beautiful wife, Kate, an insider reveals.

"Harry and his sister-in-law are extremely close," says the source. "He loves her very much and it breaks his heart to see Camilla ripping Kate apart at every opportunity.

"He knows his evil stepmother is constantly calling Kate 'a mere commoner.' Harry told her bluntly her attacks have to stop, adding, 'She's more regal than YOU'LL ever be!'

"That's when Camilla shot back, 'Get off your high horse — you're not even a real royal! You're the product of one of your mother's flings!'

"Camilla really skewered him. She knows Harry's very insecure about his paternity due to the color of his hair, which is unusual in the Royal Family."

For years, Harry's been dogged by talk his father is actually James Hewitt, a dashing cavalry officer who swept Princess Diana off her

The Prince and Hewitt both have long faces; thin, wide mouths; strong jaws; straight, pointed noses, and red-tinged hair.

"Harry's likeness to Hewitt is incredible," says a Palace source. "From the light reddish brown hair to the eyes and body language, the Royal observers note even Harry's career choice is remarkably similar to Hewitt's. While Prince Charles was an officer in the Royal Navy, and Prince William trained with the Royal Air Force search and rescue team, Harry opted for the British army — following in the footsteps of Hewitt, who was a tank commander in the first Gulf War.

For a long time, military man Hewitt acknowledged he had a five-year affair with Diana — but it was believed they didn't become intimate until 1986. Harry was born in 1984.

Then 10 years ago, Hewitt dropped the bombshell that he first bedded Diana in 1982!

“That got the ‘who's-your-daddy’ debate all fired up again,” says the insider. “Harry got so sick of it, he wanted his father to take a DNA test. He hasn't pushed the point because of the incredible fallout if he turns out not to be Charles' legitimate son.”

The source says Camilla knows the whole question causes Harry deep pain and used it against him with glee.

“If there's one thing she knows, it's how to hurt people,” says the insider. “She told him Charles has privately confessed to her he knows Hewitt is Harry's father — and if Harry doesn't believe her, she'll find a way to get the DNA test done herself!”

LOCH NESS MONSTER EXPOSED AS A HOAX!

Pilot Tom Dinsdale (above) claimed he filmed a monster in 1960. A 1934 shot (right) was declared a hoax

Critter created as gimmick to attract tourists to empty hotels

SCOTLAND'S notorious Loch Ness monster is a shocking hoax dreamed up by boozing buddies in a London pub!

That's the eye-opening revelation of British professor Gareth Williams, who insists a public relations man and his pals conjured up the swimming serpent to increase tourism during the Great Depression.

Hired by lake-front Scottish hotels to fill their empty rooms, publicist D.G. Gerahty created the landlocked monster Nessie, based on Native American legends of Ogoopogo, a 50-foot long creature said to swim in British Columbia's Okanagan Lake, Gareth says in his book, "A Monstrous Commotion: The Mysteries of Loch Ness."

And Gareth, a University of Bristol emeritus medical professor, insists one of the conspirators confessed the scam in the semi-autobiographical novel "Marise."

"Over several pints of beer we became midwives of the reborn Loch Ness monster.

All we had to do was arrange for the monster to be sighted. This we did, and the story snowballed," says the novel's narrator, who details a booze-fueled evening in Trafalgar Square. "Thousands went north to see it. It was, of course, pure hokum. It was invented for a fee of 150 pounds by an ingenious publicity man employed by hotel keepers."

To this day, the publicity wizard's creation has spun off a monster-hunting industry that's generated more than $65 million since the first "sighting" in 1932.

Part of the bogus legend even includes made-up tales of sightings hundreds of years ago.

But it's all bull, says Gareth, even though more than 1,000 sightings have been recorded since the 1930s.

The most famous was a photograph taken in 1934 by Colonel Robert Kenneth Wilson. The image was later exposed as a fraud. On his deathbed, one of the participants in the hoax, Chris Spurling, revealed the shots were staged.

These researchers hunted for Nessie in 2001, to no avail

PRAY FOR BURT REYNOLDS!

Frail legend, 79, so weak

BELOVED superstar Burt Reynolds is now in such bad shape that he uses a motorized wheelchair to get around!

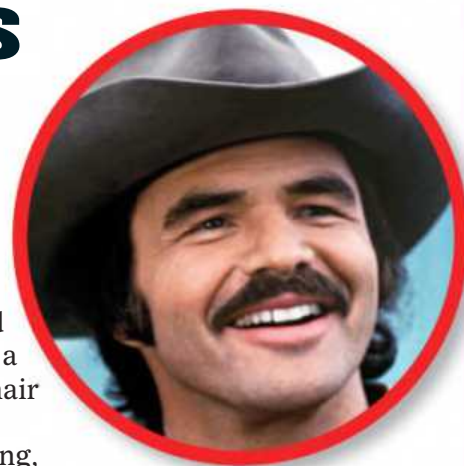

"Burt has trouble moving, to say the least," says an old pal. "He likes to joke he's 'lost a step or two — or maybe five.' But it's no joke that he has great trouble walking. In the past, he hobbled slowly, leaning on a cane for support.

"Now, even while he's doing publicity for his new book, 'But Enough About Me: a Memoir,' Burt has to greet people sitting down, because it's painful to even stand!"

Burt, 79, reportedly chalks it up to "an old football injury," but the friend says it's much worse than that: "If he has to move any kind of distance, he uses a motorized scooter.

"It's very sad to see this once vital man laid so low!"

The "Smokey and The Bandit" sensation needs your prayers, another source says.

Once Hollywood's hottest heartthrob, thin and gaunt Burt is barely recognizable, — and his right knee buckles when he walks.

"He's a mere shadow of his former self," says the insider.

He's "never gotten truly better" despite undergoing quintuple bypass surgery in February 2010.

Plus, Burt has developed agonizing rheumatoid arthritis, which is why he now has to get around by scooter.

"It's humiliating to Burt," added the source. "He's always been this macho man — and to be reduced to this, getting around by cart, is mortifying! But he has to do it for the sake of promoting his book.

"It's all he has left!"

The former "Cannonball Run" speed demon and "Smokey and the Bandit" bootlegger now has to zoom around on a scooter

Now they’re Tinseltown’s hottest couple, finding comfort in each other’s arms after shocking divorces marked by accusations of cheating.

Since splitting from singer Miranda Lambert, the 6-foot-5 hunk has cleaned up his act. He’s curbed his drinking and gone from 255 pounds to 230 — with promises to lose more.

“It’s no secret Blake had let himself go when his marriage to Miranda crashed and burned,” says one source. “But now he’s in love with Gwen, and he’s going to do everything he can to win her over.”

“Gwen has him eating right and exercising. But even more importantly, he’s cut down on his boozing. No question their relationship is taking off!”

The romance heated up after Blake, 39, and Gwen, 46, romped together at a series of Halloween bashes. First they acted cool at George Clooney’s Oct. 30 party, arriving and leaving separately.

Later Blake, dressed in a Mexican poncho, flannel shirt and trucker’s hat, was practically frothing at the bit waiting for Gwen to hit Jared Leto’s Hollywood Hills bash in her sexy cowgirl outfit. They hot hookup with Gwen

Blake was a lucky man when cowgirl Gwen finally moseyed into Jared Leto's Halloween bash hooked up for 40 minutes before leaving together.

A source says they were “holding hands” before speeding away in the same car!

The next night, they got real touchy-feely at fellow “Voice” coach Adam Levine’s party in Studio City.

Blake kept Gwen close, sliding his big mitts to her waist before putting “one hand on her backside,” says a source. Later, Gwen admitted she was Blake’s “party girl” and they were seeking “a little fun.”

The couple could use it! Gwen is recovering from her split with Gavin Rossdale amid rumors of cheating — and just put their marital home on the market. Blake ditched Miranda amid charges they’d BOTH strayed!

Now Blake and Gwen are both happier than they’ve been in years, says the insider, who adds: “We’ll just have to see how far this goes.”

If Blake wasn’t so ga-ga over Gwen, he might have had second thoughts over dumping Miranda when she showed up at the 49th Annual CMA Awards, where they both performed.

The “Little Red Wagon” songbird was drop-dead gorgeous in a black, skin-tight gown that showed off every curve on her hottie body. She had her blonde tresses dipped with pink dye, which romantic rival Gwen has done in the past!

Gwen had confirmed her sizzling romance with Blake just before the CMA Awards, but that didn’t faze Miranda, 32, who waltzed off with the Female Vocalist of the Year trophy. Still, insiders suggest she isn’t completely happy about the turn of events.

After taking the trophy, she told fans, “I needed a bright spot this year.”

But it shouldn’t be long before Miranda has a new man in her life, insiders assure.

“With that face and figure and talent, you can bet Miranda’s going to be pestered by a bunch of bucks,” says a source.

He's a judge on NBC's hit "The Voice" and the lead singer of "Maroon 5" – and 36-year-old sex god Adam Levine has even more accomplishments! He knows how to smell good, can induce instant tears – and once survived getting his arm chopped off! Here are 10 more things you don't know about the hunk who married Victoria's Secret hottie Behati Prinsloo in 2014.

10 THINGS

YOU DON'T KNOW ABOUT

ADAM LEVINE

1. Adam started playing the guitar at age 10 and learned the drums from listening to Mötley Crüe's "Dr. Feelgood."

2. He met Maroon 5 band mates Jesse Carmichael, Ryan Dusick and Mickey Madden at the Brentwood School in L.A.

3. He was a writer's assistant on the CBS show "Judging Amy."

4. He's a workaholic: "I used to be very lazy," he says. "Today I live a very healthy and disciplined life."

5. Adam's the pitchman for the acne treatment Proactiv and stars in the company's infomercials.

6. He's so into yoga he tours with a personal studio. "At any Maroon 5 concert, you'll see a room backstage marked 'yoga,'" he says.

7. Adam got brutally murdered – in an episode of "American Horror Story: Asylum."

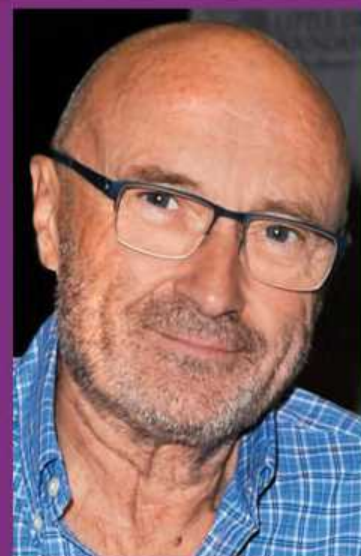

8. He has a clothing line – the Adam Levine Collection – and his own cologne: "It's very basic and very classic, the anti-celebrity fragrance."

9. If he needs a good cry he watches "E.T.: The Extra-Terrestrial."

10. The heavily inked star has one tattoo he regrets: a Russian symbol on his right shoulder that looks like a "cauliflower with a sun in the middle of it."

COMEBACK KID COLLINS BEATS BOOZE & BACK PAIN!

ROCKER Phil Collins is literally back in action after a long absence from the recording studio – and a battle with the bottle!

Major back surgery left the former Genesis drummer and singer weak and in throbbing agony. His upcoming album, "My Life in 15 Songs" is his first release of original music since 2002.

"I'm no longer officially retired," he says. "The horse is out of the stable and I'm raring to go."

When his wife dumped him and took his children to the U.S. in 2008 Phil, 64, was crushed. "I went through a few bits of darkness – drinking too much. I killed my hours watching TV and drinking, and it almost killed me. But I haven't had a drink in three years." Then his bad back derailed his career.

The wacko posed as the famed Batman fiend at the premiere of "The Dark Knight Rises" in 2012

DARK DAY

The horrific images of the Aurora theater after Holmes' rampage

BATMAN KILLER TURN

Movie massacre gunman thought he was a star 'til chilling

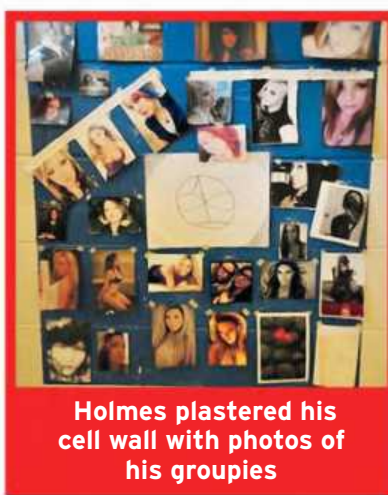

BATMAN movie killer James Holmes basked in his bloodthirsty crimes and flaunted his lovesick female groupies — until he got a much-deserved prison beat-down that's turned him into a quivering bowl of Jell-O!

The once-swaggering Holmes is now hiding like a rabbit in an isolation unit at the maximum-security Colorado State Penitentiary after what prison officials say was a sneak attack by inmate Mark "Slim" Daniels. The assault came as Holmes, who's serving 12 life terms plus 3,318 years, was being moved between cells with a guard as an escort.

"When Holmes arrived at the penitentiary, he thought he was the new king. He had notoriety, a reputation — and a harem of swooning female pen pals," says the source. "But he learned the hard way that his celebrity made him a target for the REAL monsters who run things behind bars."

The loser lifer got his first groupies while on trial for the 2012 Colorado shooting rampage that left a dozen dead and 70 wounded during a showing of the Batman flick "The Dark Knight Rises." The orange-haired fiend received 4,000 cards and letters — along with sexy photos of scantily dressed gals — while cooling his heels in the Arapahoe County Jail. The attention went to his head and Holmes plastered his cell wall with pictures of the babes, who wrote to him like he was a celebrity.

His groupies attended his court hearings and one even proposed marriage!

Another woman included her picture and a photo of her kids when she penned the sickening note, "You are my darling. Sweet as a dove in the morning dew. Like a blast of sunlight in my soul."

But fellow inmate Daniels just wanted to blast the smug creep, authorities say. "Slim," who's serving time for auto theft and assault, threw punches at Holmes in a vicious ambush that took guards by surprise.

"Now, Holmes is a quivering wreck and has to be coaxed out of the special prison pod where he's kept alone for his own safety," a law enforcement source tells GLOBE. "All those female fans — and the pictures he posted of them — are no protection and only make other inmates jealous."

There's also the fact that Holmes doesn't seem to understand the severity of his own crimes.

With a staggering lack of self-awareness, Holmes whined in a letter to one "fan" that "there's guys doing hard time and who don't care about the consequences of being violent."

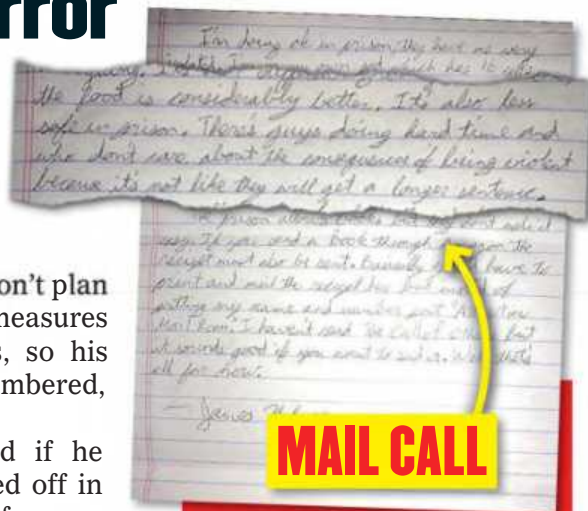

Prison officials tried to keep the attack on the mass shooter under wraps. But Daniels wrote to the "Denver Post," boasting about the assault. "He wanted to get this out," says the 27-year-old con's father, Tim Daniels.

Prison officials don't plan to take any extra measures to protect Holmes, so his days may be numbered, insiders say.

"I'll be surprised if he doesn't get knocked off in the next couple of years. ... I suspect he'll end up dead just like cannibal killer Jeffrey Dahmer," says a source.

Con man moves into foreclosed mansion
& sells $300,000 in art off the walls

- cops charge

Police recovered paintings (left) they say crafty squatter Jeremiah Kaylor (right) took from a $17 million mansion (below)

AN ARIZONA man who turned squatter in a furnished, but foreclosed, 14-bedroom San Francisco mansion has been busted for turning the art on the walls into his personal cash!

Con man Jeremiah Kaylor, 39, sold 11 paintings worth $300,000 to pawn shops and on the Internet — at bargain-basement prices, police say.

Kaylor was holed up at the $17 million palace for two months — and surprisingly, his neighbors were none the wiser! He even claimed to be in the process of buying the place when cops initially came knocking on Oct. 17.

"This individual produced some type of paperwork that looked like it was official, saying he had a right to stay there," says San Francisco Police Department Officer Carlos Manfredi, who calls Kaylor's caper "sophisticated" and "not typical for squatters."

Police say crafty Kaylor has a history of art scams. They say he claims he's a painter, but is really just a shrewd drifter who calls a variety of states home.

His high life came to a halt when the agent handling the mansion's sale told cops no one was supposed to be living there. Police went back the next day, clapped on the cuffs and hauled Kaylor to his new residence — the local jail. He's charged with trespassing and 10 counts of burglary. So far, nine of the 11 paintings have been recovered.

DEMONIC KILLER'S JAIL CELL SUICIDE!

TRUE CRIME
UPDATE

A DEVIL worshiper accused of two murders was found dead in a pool of blood — in his jail cell!

Cops are saying tattooed fiend Pazuzu Illah Algarad, who legally changed his name to honor the demon in 1973's "The Exorcist," committed suicide on Oct. 28.

As GLOBE reported in its Nov. 24, 2014 edition, Algarad and girlfriend Amber Nicole Burch, 29, were collared for the shooting deaths of Joshua Fredrick Wetzler, 37, and Tommy Dean Welch, 36, in July 2009. Their corpses were found in Oct. 2014, buried in the yard of the satanic couple's home in Clemmons, N.C.

Charged with murder, Algarad was being held without bond at Central Prison in Raleigh, N.C., when his body was discovered. Cops say he had deep cuts on his arm — and Wetzler's mom, Martha, says the beast "took the coward's way out."

Huge Demand for New Cell-Slimming Diet Pill

Frustrated by his patient's weighty health problems, resident diet and health expert; Dr. Seymour Weaver III has single-handedly changed the way people will lose weight forever.

By Senior Staff Reporter, Steve Christo

Local area physician, Dr. Seymour Weaver III has done the impossible. He created a pill that doesn't just help you lose weight. It helps morph even the chronically obese; into skinnier, healthier versions of themselves.

The pill works best on people who don't have the willpower to stick to a diet... Or those who have been dieting for years and never seem to be able to lose weight. That's because you're not forced onto a treadmill or to starve yourself.

Unlike other formulas, Dr. Weaver's pill works on a cellular level... slimming down each individual fat cell by feeding it the proper nutrition it needs to stay healthy. We are seeing thinner waists, leaner torsos and a huge reduction in dangerous health numbers that often plagues patients with weight problems. Both doctors and drug companies are astonished.

"This is a huge leap forward! Without any real effort at all my formulation not only stops you from adding pounds — it actually brings your body back to its own natural, God-given weight" says Weaver.

It all began in February 2011, when Dr. Weaver received some scary results back from the lab about one of his favorite patients. This gentleman, who will for privacy purposes go unnamed; had cholesterol and triglyceride levels that might send others directly to the grave. Explains Weaver, "Of course my first thought was to put my patient on a strict diet. But at this point, there was no time. If I didn't do something quickly; the man could predictably be dead in just a few months". Weaver was left with few options. Gastric bypass was out of the question. It was too dangerous for a man in his condition. Besides, his insurance company would never cover it.

Challenge Accepted!

Never one to step away from a challenge; Dr. Weaver used everything he knows about medicine; and how it interacts with the human body. Weaver is an exceptional doctor and formulator of some of the most impressive natural remedies ever created.

But developing this pill was no easy task. He needed America's top research laboratory to do it. And testing had to be done by trained technicians, in a controlled environment, using only the latest equipment available.

Weaver experimented with thousands of ingredients. Some worked a little, others not at all. Then almost accidentally, he stumbled upon the mother-load... A formula that works synergistically — encouraging a reduction of your fat cells instead of body weight. It's a weight-loss phenomenon some of the highest paid researchers in the world have been chasing for years. Weaver's formulation in effect puts every single fat cell in your body "on a diet". So now, instead of slowly burning away excess fat, your fat cells actually slim down.

Dr. Seymour Weaver III:
The genius behind the most impressive weight loss phenomenon of our time.

A Possible Nobel Prize Winner

It's a totally new approach to weight loss. Considered so revolutionary in fact, there's even talk of a Nobel Prize for science. That's because he was able to identify 14 rare compounds; with odd names like Caralluma, and Lactobacillus Acidophilus. But when fused together, the formula actually forces your body to lose weight at the cellular level. It's never been done before!

How It Works...

Unlike anything ever developed, the pill targets and conditions your fat cells from the point of food digestion — to the point of waste expulsion. The formula works by latching on to each individual fat cell; then force-feeding it with essential nutrients that turn slow-moving fat into usable energy. The result? Dramatic weight loss as each cell shrinks down to its normal size.

Dr. Weaver decided to put his formula to the test. Excitedly, he called his patient to come in for a follow-up visit. He handed the patient a plain white bottle of pills. There was no label on it and no directions other than Weaver's handwritten scrawl that said "take orally, twice a day".

"I can't begin to tell you how grateful I am!"

I dropped 40 pounds the first 40 days of my weight loss journey! I lost 30 more since then and I would like to lose another 80. The products developed by DR. WEAVER are PHENOMENAL! He helped me change my life...I eat a healthy diet, I exercise every day and I use his products. As a matter of fact, I have marked my calendar EVERY DAY

THIS YEAR...I HAVE NOT MISSED ONE DAY OF EXERCISE IN 2014! — Mary S., Myrtle Beach, SC

Then something incredible happened....

For the first time the man could remember, he began to lose weight. A lot of weight. Pounds and pounds of pure fat GONE by his very next appointment! Weaver was ecstatic about the results and starts producing his formula in larger quantities.

Unprecedented Demand

Soon, word spread about Dr. Weaver's incredible new pill. Not only did his own patients clamor for it,

"It conditions every cell in your body to shed fat... from the point of food digestion — to the point of waste expulsion. It's the first weight loss remedy that works on the cellular level. There's never been anything like it!"

— Dr. Seymour Weaver III

other doctors' offices begged him for a supply. Local retail stores sold out before they could even get it on the shelves. And even now, he struggles to have enough manufactured to fill the growing demand.

Here's What Early Testers Are Saying:

- "I lost 32 pounds without killing myself in the gym" — Mrs. Mary S, School Teacher
- "Pinch me! I went from a size 14 dress to a size 7. I still can't believe it!" — Autumn S, age 37, Systems Analyst
- "I took just two capsules a day... and I was amazed — 7 Pounds in the first week!" — Ron S, Age 63, Electrician.

Made only in USA, Officially Classified as "Prescription Free"

Dr. Weaver (known for his high ethical standards) produces each and every bottle in the United States. And only from pure and certified ingredients. That's how he can proudly guarantee each pill will work up to 97.7% of the time.

But his attention to detail has certainly slowed down production to the point of where it can only be offered on a limited basis.

Limited Availability to the Public

The pills work so well weight loss clinics are scrambling to purchase every single bottle; before the general public gets their hands on it. It's anticipated that all other forms of weight loss management (including gastric bypass) could become obsolete; once this supplement becomes widely available. But for now, it is still in its early marketing stages. And currently available only to people who learn about it here and contact us now.

Special Opportunity for Our Readers

I love soap opera stars – well, at least most of them.

They are a special group of celebrities, loyal to their shows and loyal to their fans. They are not at all like many of the celeb dumbasses, who make movies or TV series, thumb their noses at fans and live life on the edge.

I watched as a throng of fans braved the Connecticut cold and welcomed back the stars of “All My Children” and “One Life To Live” when the afternoon dramas briefly resumed filming in 2013. And I watched as the stars came out of the studio to bring their freezing fans hot coffee and personally thank them for their support.

I’ve had the pleasure of getting to know Catherine Hickland, who starred as Lindsay Rappaport on OLTL. I’ve watched her graciously interact with fans in person and on Facebook and Twitter. And I’ve spent some time with Alicia Minshew, Kendall Hart on AMC. They could not have been any nicer.

There are scores of others. And then there’s Casey Moss.

Moron Moss, who stars as JJ Deveraux on “Days of Our Lives,” was busted outside of Phoenix after cops say he tried to punch a bartender at a hotel bar.

He’s facing charges of assault, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Cops were called around 12:30 a.m. on Oct. 26, after the hotel reported an intoxicated Moss tried to hit a bartender for refusing to serve him more booze and shoved another person. He then cursed at employees, police said.

Moss was handcuffed and cops tried to get him outside. Asked for his name, Moss allegedly yelled, “I’m Casey Moss, and I’m an actor on ‘Days of Our Lives.’”

Hopefully, not for much longer!

Fans were outraged and accused her of mocking the disabled.

DEFIANT DAUGHTER

ELDER ABUSE CHARGES

Devoted daughter Kerri Kasem (above left) vows she'll bring dad Casey's body back from a forlorn gravesite in Oslo, Norway — where widow Jean (right) had him buried

THE eldest daughter of America's most beloved deejay, the late Casey Kasem, is determined to exhume his body from an unmarked grave in Norway and return his remains to U.S. soil.

"I still plan to bury my father in Los Angeles and I'm doing everything in my power to make sure that happens," Kerri Kasem tells GLOBE. "I have not given up the fight!"

Kerri and her siblings are bolstered by a recent win against their dad's vindictive widow, Jean Kasem, that will let them collect a $2 million life insurance payout.

Kerri, 43, says, "It's crazy that we had to fight for something that my dad wanted to give us 30 years ago."

A bitter family feud has raged ever since Jean was accused of practically kidnapping the former voice of Top 40 radio from his Santa Monica hospital bed in May 2014, only for him to die on

CASEY KASEM'S KIDS DIGGING UP HIS BODY!

Fierce feud with DJ's widow Jean explodes

Casey's sad and bleak grave in Norway — where fans' flowers are quickly tossed away

June 15, 2014, at age 82.

Not only had his possessive second wife — who retained legal rights over his remains — barred Kerri and her brother and sister from visiting their father's deathbed, she had him buried in a remote cemetery in Oslo, Norway. And only after his corpse lay decomposing for months at a funeral home!

"It's so sad — my father is sitting in an unmarked grave, thousands of miles from where he wanted to be buried [in California]," says Kerri. "There is still no headstone and I'm told that if anyone leaves flowers or anything, they are immediately removed."

Kerri, adamant she'll bring Casey's body home, continues, "If I have to go there myself to get him, I will."

While Kerri, who charged Jean with "elder abuse" in her dad's death, has no legal right to exhume his body, she hopes that may change now that she has the dollars to fight for it.

"We have a hearing which should result in Kerri being appointed the administrator of Casey's estate," says her attorney Troy Martin.

Kerri remains optimistic, saying, "This case is not closed — not by a long shot."

Secret FBI files reveal chilling evidence that could send Robert Wagner to prison
-investigator charges

A TOP-SECRET FBI file has revealed Natalie Wood was the target of a sophisticated financial scam that could have led to her murder!

The bombshell disclosure could provide the smoking gun that proves husband Robert Wagner had a motive to kill her, says a top investigator who has studied the never-before-seen documents.

The 162-page FBI report, obtained by GLOBE, shows the Hollywood beauty was part of a “grand theft and fraud probe” involving the popular TV detective drama, “Charlie’s Angels.”

Wagner (right) exploded when he learned Natalie was grabbing his profits, a source charges

Investigators from the FBI, the L.A. County District Attorney and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission conducted the probe in 1980.

The plot, according to the documents, was “a scheme to divert money from the major profit participants in the ‘Charlie’s Angels’ show” — and revealed “the original idea of the show came from (redacted name) and Natalie Wood.”

Named in the probe was the show’s famed producer Aaron Spelling, who along with a partner allegedly siphoned off profits from the series that made blonde beauty Farrah Fawcett a household name.

The FBI documents said the multi-agency probe was eventually closed. No charges were filed.

But investigative journalist Kathleen Hewtson, an expert on Natalie’s death, reviewed the FBI dossier at GLOBE’s KILLED! E FOR E'S ER!

Party pals Christopher Walken and Natalie co-starred in "Brainstorm"

Natalie and Robert quarreled bitterly the night she died, says yacht skipper Dennis Davern (right)

A plot to siphon off "Charlie's Angels" profits made Splendour a death ship, an investigator charges. "Angels" producer Aaron Spelling (below) hangs with the show's stars Kate Jackson, Cheryl Ladd and Jacqueline Smith request, and concludes the documents give Wagner a motive for murdering his wife!

Hewtson, who has accused "Hart to Hart" hunk Wagner of beating his wife bloody before dumping her in the ocean, now believes Natalie was secretly conspiring with Spelling to stockpile money to escape her marriage.

"Aaron Spelling was a huge fan of Natalie, but he hated Wagner!" says Hewtson, author of the book, "The Night My Husband Killed Me." "Natalie was ready to get out of the marriage. Aaron was trying to be a hero by rolling over the profits, and not telling Wagner about it."

Hewtson insists Wagner would have flown into a "cold rage" after learning his wife schemed to "dupe him out of millions" and says: "It could certainly be his motive for killing her."

Natalie, 43, was on board Wagner's yacht Splendour before she died in the waters off California's Catalina Island in Nov. 28, 1981 – shortly after the "Charlie's Angels" money grab scandal rocked Hollywood. On the night of the tragedy, Wagner exploded in a jealous rage and fought with Natalie in a booze-fueled brawl, according to Splendour Capt. Dennis Davern. At the time, the couple was entertaining her "Brainstorm" co-star Christopher Walken on the boat.

Davern, who passed a police polygraph test, implicated Wagner in Natalie's death and accused him of delaying the search for her.

The Los Angeles County

Sheriff's department reopened the probe into Natalie's death in 2011. Homicide investigators labeled Wagner, 85, as a "person of interest."

Lawmen say the star has refused to cooperate with authorities. But the Medical Examiner's Office changed Natalie's official cause of death from "accidental drowning" to "drowning and other undetermined factors."

In a bizarre twist, Wagner continued his fight for "Charlie's Angels" profits after Natalie's death. But in 2007 he lost the court case.

Hewtson told GLOBE: "Now, if police arrest him in Natalie's death, he's going to lose again."

Medical news YOU can use!

SAY it ain't so!
A new World Health Organization study says beloved bacon — and other processed meats — cause cancer!

Each 50-gram portion of bacon eaten daily increases the risk of colorectal cancer by 18 percent, according to research conducted by 22 scientists from around the globe.

Americans consumed 1.1 billion servings of bacon at restaurants last year — on our burgers, our eggs and even on our pizza. The average U.S. resident eats almost 18 pounds of bacon every year — and that's on top of other processed meats like sausage, corned beef and hot dogs.

Scientists suspect bad things happen to meat while its being cured, salted or smoked, resulting in a build-up of cancer-causing chemicals.

“For an individual, the risk of developing colorectal cancer because of their consumption of processed meat remains small, but the risk increases with the amount of meat consumed,” says Kurt Straif, head of the International Agency for Research on Cancer.

However, not all health experts embrace the findings.

“Scientific evidence shows cancer is a complex disease not caused by single foods and that a balanced diet and healthy lifestyle choices are essential to good health,” says Barry Carpenter, president of the North American Meat Institute.

Still, hundreds of studies have found links between processed meat and different kinds of cancer.

Moms don't see their kids are fat!

+ MANY mothers don't notice their children are obese — even though they realize they are overweight themselves! This finding may show why kids don't get the help they need to lose weight, researchers say. In a study of 8,000 mothers in Ireland, only 17 percent saw their children were “moderately” or “very” overweight. Family perception may play a big role in childhood obesity.

Raisins power good workouts

+ EATING a box of raisins before your workout will keep you energized! A new study shows raisins are just as effective as sports bars, fruits and honey at keeping you primed for great exercise. Raisins improved performance for male runners participating in the research, which also revealed that consuming water during exercise does NOT improve results.

MAGNETS EASE PARALYSIS!

MAGNETIC stimulation may help people move paralyzed body parts, an exciting new study shows.

Strong pulses of magnetic energy delivered to the brain can help doctors find undamaged nerve centers that can be used to move a partially paralyzed area of the body, researchers found.

Experts say the findings are significant because they reveal it may be possible to teach the brain how to use the undamaged areas to move an immobile arm, leg or other section of the body.

Most paralysis is the result of a stroke, doctors say. Almost 90 percent of stroke victims suffer mild to severe paralysis of a limb on one side of the body. But using magnetic energy to jump-start their brains could ease patients' rehabilitation and improve their ability to move, say experts.

SINATRA ASKED MOB TO WHACK WOODY!

A LIVID Frank Sinatra tried to convince his gangster pals to kill director Woody Allen for betraying Mia Farrow!

That's the shocking revelation in a new book by David Evanier about the Oscar winning director, who hooked up with Mia after she divorced Ol' Blue Eyes in 1968.

According to the book, "Woody: The Biography," Mia cried on Frank's shoulder after discovering Allen cheated on her with adopted daughter Soon-Yi Previn, whom he later wed. Mia also believed Allen abused her 7-year old daughter, the author writes.

David says the Chairman of the Board's response was to order the "Annie Hall" director murdered by the mob!

But gangsters resisted, Sinatra simply didn't have "the juice" to convince New York underworld bosses to take out Allen — so there were no bullets over Broadway.

Johnny says his Hollywood Hills mansion "is the only house I've ever had"

JOHNNY MATHIS DEVASTATED AS FIRE GUTS HOME 'Chances are he'll never recover from this tragedy'

AGING singer Johnny Mathis put on a brave face after a fire gutted his Hollywood Hills home, but friends fear the devastating heartbreak could put him in the grave.

The 80-year-old "Chances Are" and "Misty" singer said he was "lucky" to be out when the blaze destroyed the mansion, where he's lived for 56 years.

"I could have been here," he said, while surveying the sad remains of his mansion. "I could have been in bed."

Still, few of the art and showbiz treasures he's collected over his 60-year career, featuring 350 million sold albums, could be saved.

"The Lifetime Achievement Award he was given by the Academy of Recording Arts several years ago is believed to be one of the many things that went up in smoke," says a source.

An insider adds: "Chances are he'll never recover from this tragedy. Johnny's single and has lived alone since the '60s.

"Now it's all gone and even his huge wealth can't replace it. This is an emotional killer for a man his age."

Despite his many love songs and countless female fans, Mathis has made no secret of the fact he's gay and admits he's lived a lonely life.

"I've had relationships, but none that has stayed the distance," he says.

He also admitted getting hooked on drugs when his overworked voice gave out.

"The guy who owned the Copacabana in New York sent me to a doctor who gave me vitamin shots laced with amphetamines," he recalls. "I ended up with a drug addiction."

Now, the lonely star is homeless.

The house fire sparked about 5:30 p.m. on Nov. 2 and soon turned into a raging inferno that took 41 firemen to douse.

Despite the pain of his loss, a pal of Mathis says, "Johnny is fortunate. If he'd been in the house when the blaze ignited we would probably be writing his obituary."

Michelle blasted hubby Barack as a hypocrite!

OBAMAS FIGHT OVER WILD CHILD MALIA!

Barack scolds wife for underage teen's beer party antics

WORRIED President Barack Obama and his wife Michelle are at each other's throats over daughter Malia's wild party antics!

The 17-year-old was recently caught at a boozy Brown University student bash, where eyewitnesses say the First Daughter was playing the popular drinking game beer pong!

"The First Lady and the President got into a screaming match over it, each blaming the other for letting their underage daughter attend a wild drinking party," says a political insider.

"Barack yelled at Michelle and blamed her for letting Malia get out of control!

"He told Michelle in no uncertain terms she needed to rein in Malia and make sure this doesn't happen again!"

But the First Lady refused to back down, says the source.

"Michelle snapped back at Barack, saying he's a fine one to talk — after repeatedly admitting to smoking a ton of marijuana with his high school buddies!" the source adds.

The family battle exploded after a picture on messaging app Snapchat showed Malia standing in front of cups set up for beer pong, a drinking game where players try to get ping pong balls into cups of brew. When a ball lands in a cup, a member of the opposite team has to chug the suds.

Brown student Hamiltonian Keurig wrote on his Twitter page: "Malia is playing beer pong."

Another Twitter poster identified only as Colin tweeted on Oct. 11, "Malia Obama was taking shots and playing beer pong. LOL."

Almost all those tweets were later deleted.

But the Obamas' bickering took on a life of its own. Other sources say the First Couple clashed over Malia's dream of becoming a model.

The leggy teen — who's nearly as tall as her 6-foot-1 dad — is hooked on the reality TV shows "America's Next Top Model" and "Project Runway."

"But Barack is horrified Malia is talking about a career on the catwalk," says a Washington, D.C. insider.

"He's always wanted both of his daughters to have traditional professions — like lawyers or doctors!"

But his star-struck wife has other thoughts.

"Michelle loves the glamour of the fashion world," dishes the source, "and she thinks Malia could even be a movie star!"

A photo posted on the Internet (below) shows clothes horse Malia, 17, at a college beer bash, which made her dad blow a fuse!

YOUR HOROSCOPE

For the week of November 23 - November 29

by Emily Hamer-West

ARIES March 21 - April 20

A friend's problems weigh on your mind – should you rush to help? Venus confronting Saturn warns it's better to hang back during this (made-up? not-all-that-serious?) crisis. Get ready for great deals at Black Friday sales! This weekend, look for friendship with someone you meet close to home.

TAURUS April 21 - May 21

News of a pay raise or cash from a forgotten investment gets the week off to a great start! The stars say turn the other cheek when a relative makes unfavorable comments about your outfit or weight. It's not worth getting upset over. Listen more than talk this weekend – you'll learn a valuable tip.

GEMINI May 22 - June 21

Ignoring a meddlesome coworker or neighbor is your best bet on Monday. Attend to health matters under Wednesday's Taurus full moon, when you'll get a clear answer to a pesky problem. Holiday shopping could put your finances into the red. Make a list and stick to it. Do you really need more shoes?

CANCER June 22 - July 22

You have so much to do and you're running out of time? Fear not! Energetic Mercury has your back and you'll get everything ready with time to spare. You can even relax Wednesday. Come the weekend, the planets align to turn you into a domestic dynamo, whipping your place into perfect shape!

LEO July 23 - August 23

Live and learn, Lion. You tried something new and it didn't quite work out. But on the bright side, Venus brings a new entertaining hobby to try – and this time you'll love it! Too much family togetherness could sap your energy – steal away for some quiet time. Single? New love wears bright colors.

CELEBRITY BIRTHDAY

turns 44 on
Nov. 25

VIRGO August 24 - September 22

An unexpected gift early in the week lets you know how much you're appreciated. Stop, look and love! There's someone special waiting in the wings for your affection – take a closer look at that old friend you take for granted. A relationship begun beneath the Taurus full moon could last a lifetime!

LIBRA September 23 - October 23

As Venus brawls with Uranus, you find it hard to count your blessings, but making a list of all the good things in your life will attract even more. So paste on a smile and fake happy for a while! The stars shine on legal or financial papers signed midweek. This weekend, look for love while shopping.

SCORPIO October 24 - November 22

Just when you think all is lost in a relationship, the sun works with Jupiter to mend fences. You could face a crisis at home or work on Tuesday, but it's smooth sailing under the Gemini full moon by Thursday, when an introduction leads to a work offer. Be alert for petty criminals this weekend!

SAGITTARIUS November 23 - December 21

There's some kind of big excitement in your neighborhood Monday – take care to look your best when you leave the house! If you're traveling, plan a route off the beaten path. The planets steer you to new friendship on your journey and you could discover a place you want to move to!

CAPRICORN December 22 - January 20

The Sagittarius sun keeps your energy high, and you'll be buzzing around like a busy bee preparing for the holiday season. Something that looks like a steal may not be as good as it seems – take time to shop around. You finally find a simple solution to a recurring health problem.

AQUARIUS January 21 - February 18

Planetary bickering could bring annoying roadblocks to simple tasks. Hang in there! This will pass. Steer clear of those who disagree with your lifestyle – it's not necessary to explain your choices and who needs friends like this anyway? Cash finds you on Sunday – be alert for opportunity!

PISCES February 19 - March 20

Wrap up paperwork Monday, when planetary conditions favor your side of the bargaining table! The weekend's domestic Cancer moon gets you reminiscing, and while traveling down memory lane through old scrapbooks, you could unearth forgotten stocks, bonds or a long-lost legacy!

BAD BOY FORD'S EX DIED BITTER — BUT RICH!

HARRISON Ford's ex-wife Melissa Mathison went to her grave still bitter over the way he betrayed her with other women.

The screenwriter of the hit movies "The Black Stallion" in 1979 and "E.T. the Extra-terrestrial" in 1982, Mathison, 65, passed away in L.A. Nov. 4 after battling neuroendocrine cancer for years.

She was Ford's second wife and mother of his children Malcolm, 28, and Georgia, 25.

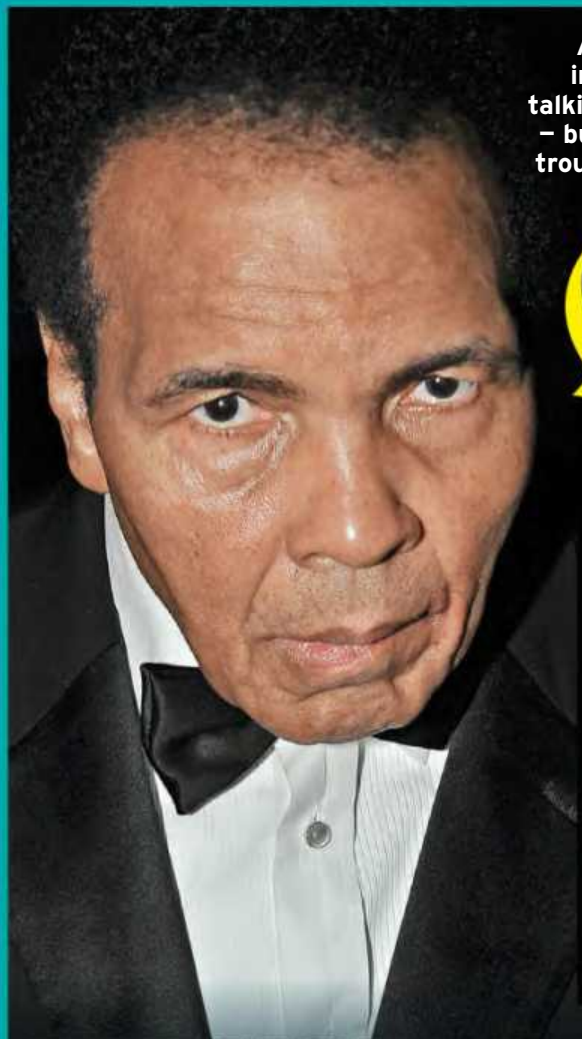

The Hollywood hunk's boozing and wild ways — including a reported romance with actress Lara Flynn Boyle — doomed their marriage.

They divorced in 2004, and Melissa was awarded a $90 million settlement — one of the largest in Hollywood history.

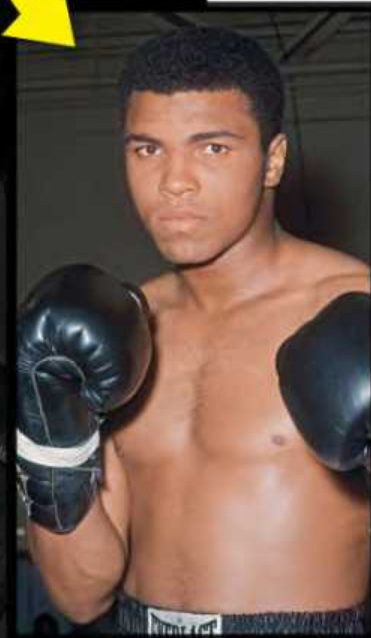

"She was bitter, never remarried," says an insider, "and went to her grave a single woman."

Ali's wife, Yolanda, shields her husband from the sun as she pushes his wheelchair in L.A.

THE BRUTAL life-or-death battle being waged by boxing great Muhammad Ali has entered its final rounds, with a crippling disease stripping the silver-tongued legend of his ability to speak or even move!

But a pal reveals the ex heavyweight champ has made his peace with life — and can handle whatever the future holds

At 73, Ali is "a prisoner in his own body," says pal Gene Kilroy. "It's hard seeing him as he is today.

"He can just about walk, and his speech is slurred. It takes a huge effort for him to make the simplest communication now. But when he does, every word is worthwhile," Gene notes.

"Even now he has no fear. He says, 'I'll stay here as long as God wants me to. When my time comes I'll have no regrets.'"

Ali was rushed to the hospital last December with pneumonia, and was later readmitted with a dangerous urinary tract infection.

The self-proclaimed "Greatest of All Time" was diagnosed in 1984 with Parkinson's disease, which progressively erodes motor functions — a sadly ironic fate for the once-graceful boxer who described his fighting style as "float like a butterfly, sting like a bee!"

Gene says Ali fondly recalls his greatest rival, the late "Smokin' Joe Frazier. Two months ago, he had Gene place a message on a statue of Frazier in Philadelphia reading:

"Joe Frazier, rest in peace until we meet again. But next time we're not going to fight, we're just going to hug."

BIEBER TURNS HOLY ROLLER

Bad boy singer finds religion as probation ends

NOW that he's finished his probation for egging a house, Justin Bieber is scrambling to turn into a good egg — and a child of God!

The temperamental pop star, 21, who pleaded no contest to the misdemeanor in July 2014, was ordered to perform community service and seek counseling. He attended 12 anger management sessions and did 40 hours of community labor, which included painting walls. He also ponied up $80,000 to cover the damages after egging the house of neighbors Jeff and Suzanne Schwartz in Calabasas, Calif., in January last year.

Donny Gomez, program manager at Volunteers of America's Family Homeless Shelter, is certain Justin "will be a productive member of society and a great human being."

That's actually Bieber's goal: "I just wanna honestly live like Jesus," Bieber claims. "He created a pretty awesome template of how to love people and how to be gracious and kind."

The Biebs has been arrested multiple times, and has had his penis splashed all over the Internet, but he's determined to shed his bad-boy ways. He's even admitting he acted "almost like a reality star, rather than a musician."

Now, he says, "I know that God has a greater purpose for me..."

Recently, the reformed jerk stormed off a show in Norway — and then apologized on Instagram: "Hopefully people will understand where I am coming from. I don't always handle things the right way but I'm human and I'm working on getting better at responding, not reacting."

'SLAVE' CADDY TRASHES TIGER!

TIGER Woods' long-time caddy Steve Williams has teed off on his former boss, ripping the fallen golfer for treating him like a peon!

Steve, who teamed with Tiger for 13 years, slams the superjock in his new book, "Out of the Rough."

"One thing that really pissed me off," reveals Steve, was how Tiger "would flippantly toss a club in the general direction of the bag, expecting me to go over and pick it up ... like I was his slave."

As for the sexcapades that led to Woods' divorce and fall from grace, Steve says he didn't know about the cheating "because Tiger didn't dare tell me."

Adds the catty caddy: "I have no sympathy for people who get addicted to drugs or gambling or sex."

LINDA GRAY TORCHED BY FURIOUS EX-FLAME!

Writer claims 'Dallas' star lied about her nip/tucks and stabbed him in back

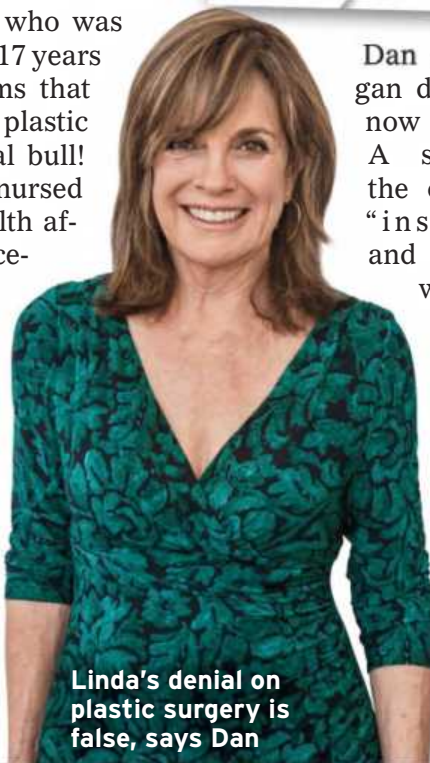

LINDA Gray is a liar! That's the shocking claim by Hollywood screenwriter Dan Gordon, who accuses the former "Dallas" vixen of coldly writing him out of her life AND her recent memoir.

And the man who was Gray's lover for 17 years insists her claims that she's never had plastic surgery are total bull! Dan says he nursed her back to health after a secret face-lift that left her black and blue and too weak to go to the bathroom by herself!

"The woman is duplicitous, a liar and a phony," slams Dan. "She just bold-faced, flat-out lied."

Dan says Linda dumped him — while doing an interview!

Linda's denial on plastic surgery is false, says Dan

Dan says he began dating Linda, now 75, in 1996. A source says the couple were "inseparable" and traveled the world together. He claims they were so close he helped her deal with her mother's dementia — and she helped him get over the tragic death of a son who died in a car crash.

Despite those bonds, Dan insists he didn't even know he'd been dumped by the blonde bombshell!

In December 2013, Dan says he learned Linda announced in an interview she "was not in a relationship but would love to be in one."

When he contacted Linda, who played Sue Ellen Ewing on "Dallas" from 1978 to 1991, he claims she told him, "The relationship feels complete to me. It's just over, that's all."

Her "betrayal" was unimaginable, says Dan, who wrote the movies "The Hurricane" and "Wyatt Earp."

Mickey's doggone happy to have Bojack

POOCH SAVED SUICIDAL ROURKE!

DOWN-and-out actor Mickey Rourke admits he almost blew his brains out — but a furry pal gave him a reason to live!

"I was going through a really rough time," says plastic-surgery-obsessed Mickey, who has admitted long battles with booze and drugs.

"I was sitting in the closet one day. I couldn't take it anymore and picked up a gun.

"I was deciding what part of my head to put it on and my dog, Bojack, he whined and I looked over and he looked up at me."

Bojack's expression "said, 'Who's going to look after me?' And it made me put the gun down," adds the "Barfly" star.

"I get along better with dogs than I do with people."

"QUANTICO"

SECRETS REVEALED!

ABC'S MEGAHIT FBI drama "Quantico" promises to heat things up this winter, and GLOBE can exclusively reveal some of the juicy details — like the fact that the next few episodes "are less about guest stars and explosions and more about a startling turn the story takes."

Co-executive producer Josh Safran says viewers will get a little closer to figuring out who is framing brand-new agent Alex Parrish (Priyanka Chopra) for the bombing of New York City's Grand Central Terminal.

"One or two very viable suspects will emerge," he tells GLOBE. "Of course we've dropped breadcrumbs along the way, but it's true that in some respects this won't be clear until the terrorists are revealed in later episodes."

So, the show's not pulling the pin on the big whodunit yet — but that doesn't mean there aren't other giant plot developments for Alex, who's already been betrayed by so many people close to her.

"Her whole world is about to be turned upside down by a major discovery and she's going to be forced to make her boldest move yet," co-executive producer Jake Coburn told GLOBE. He calls the next few episodes, "game-changers for Alex."

EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW

And "Quantico" has been a game-changer for both the producers and the network, attracting up to 11 million viewers a week. The show focuses on terrorism and patriotism, with an Indian-American lead character in Alex and Muslim women like twin agents Nimah and Raina Amin as part of a group of FBI recruits training in Quantico, Va.

THE EYES HAVE IT!

DOES "Quantico" hottie Jake McLaughlin sit in the makeup chair for Agent Ryan Booth's thick-lashed bedroom eyes? Nope! "Those really are his! It's astounding, isn't it?" laughs show exec Josh Safran.

“WALKING DEAD” DARYL GETS A RIDE

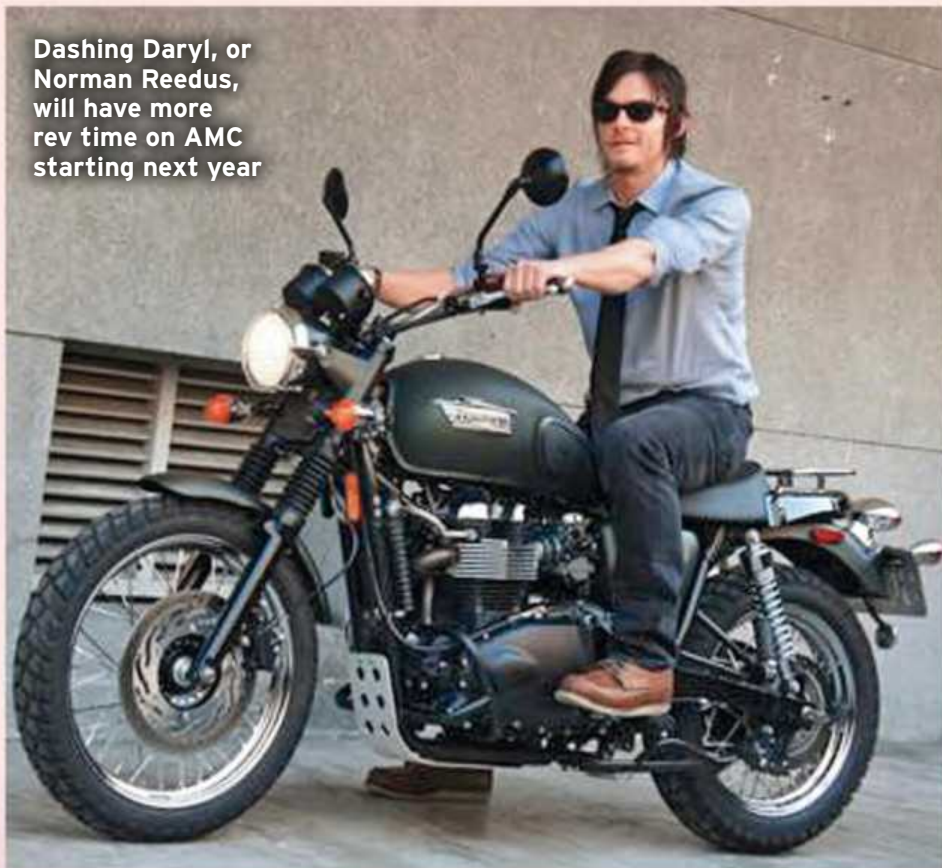

HE'S NEVER without his motorcycle on the AMC zombie hit “The Walking Dead” – and now actor Norman Reedus will be hopping on a bike in a non-fiction series for the network!

In six one-hour episodes set to debut in 2016, Reedus and a riding buddy, who will change on every show, will explore a new city and its motorcycle culture – with no zombies in pursuit!

“I’m incredibly excited and thankful to AMC for giving me the opportunity to share a passion of mine with our fans, and hopefully a whole new audience,” says the actor who plays tough-as-nails Daryl Dixon. “I had a lot of fun filming and exploring, and I hope it shows.”

The show, tentatively titled

Dashing Daryl, or Norman Reedus, will have more rev time on AMC starting next year

“Ride with Norman Reedus,” has huge network support: “We love being the home of people’s passion projects, and there is nobody more passionate about motorcycles than Norman Reedus,” raved AMC programming honcho Joel Stillerman. Guess they’re Daryl fans, too!

“We wanted this show to embrace cultural diversity and shatter stereotypes,” says Coburn. “In my opinion, Hollywood doesn’t need another straight white male with a badge. It needs more characters like Alex Parrish.”

Noting it was always his intention to reflect the changing face of America in the new show, Safran adds: “I think all of us just hoped for the best, but knew with all the options out there, we might not succeed. Our goal was just to make a show we were proud of, and we have.”

SLEEPING WITH WOLVES!

Red-haired rancher is leader of the pack

Damu has much to be fang-ful for, with Kimmi Kraus supplying treats while Husky Jackson waits for a nibble

WHO'S afraid of the big bad wolf? Not this real-life Little Red Riding Hood! Flame-haired Kimmi Kraus is a 27-year-old California gal who's gladly given up dates and the nightlife to hang with her furry pal Damu, a 90-pound, five-foot-long wolf.

"I don't have time to go out and party!" growls Kimmi.

Her fearsome buddy, who's been living with his proud owner since he was six weeks old, even sleeps and cuddles with Kimmi every night in her king-size bed in Santa Rosa. And she's not the least bit nervous.

According to Kimmi, fairy tales give wolves a bad rap. They're not really the fierce, fang-baring critters they're made out to be. She says Damu, a cross breed of Timber, Hudson Bay and British Columbian wolf, is completely safe and she would trust him with her life! She also shares her home with a wolf-like Husky, Jackson, who teaches Damu the tricks of the domesticated trade.

"They really are the most loving, considerate and sensitive animals," claims Kimmi.

Damu, whose favorite snack is iced green tea and fresh mozzarella, isn't the only wolf in her life.

Kimmi's Santa Rosa ranch is home to a project to train, rescue and rehabilitate the wild animals and make Californians aware local packs need to be preserved and protected.

"To me, sleeping with Damu is part of everyday life and an adventure," says Kimmi. "I know he gets an enormous sense of enjoyment and excitement from it. My life is different, and some people will not understand our bond, but we are like a family."

'MOMMIE' FAYE IS REALLY A MONSTER

Rutanya was there as Faye unleashed her inner Joan!

SCREEN beauty Faye Dunaway terrorized the set of "Mommie Dearest" like a reanimated Joan Crawford, according to a shocking new book!

Faye, who famously played fiery Joan in the 1981 film, is ripped into by "Mommie" co-star Rutanya Alda, 73.

"She's terrifying," says Rutanya, who played loyal assistant Carol Ann.

Rutanya, the author of "The Mommie Dearest Diary: Carol Ann Tells All," claims the notorious diva bullied people on set, had to pre-approve all visitors and once reduced a wardrobe staffer to tears!

Plus, the "Chinatown" star demanded a producing credit for then-boyfriend Terry O'Neill — even though he didn't do any actual producing.

Faye also staged key scenes so Rutanya wasn't facing the camera — a trick used by insecure stars, according to Rutanya!

REVENGE IS BERRY SWEET!

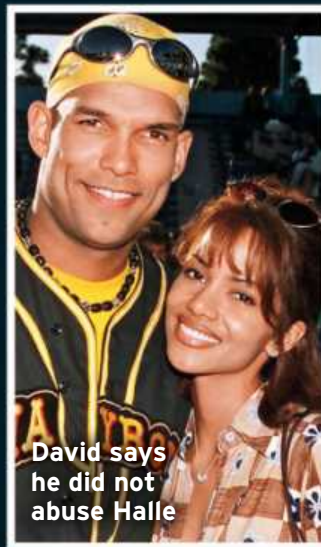

Halle's baseball star ex swings at WIFE FROM HELL

NOW locked in her third divorce battle, movie hottie Halle Berry is being blasted by her first husband as a vindictive vixen who didn't immediately squash vicious rumors that he was a sicko wife-beater.

Former baseball star David Justice — wed to Berry from 1993 to 1997 — says the "Monster's Ball" Oscar-winner publicly claimed she'd lost her hearing in one ear from a ferocious beating and refused to name her celebrity attacker — leaving people to believe he was the creep!

Now, he's warning her estranged actor hubby Olivier Martinez, who is in the middle of a nasty divorce from the "X-Men" temptress, the same thing could happen to him.

"When she first reported she had been in abusive relationships, she wouldn't name the 'famous' former boyfriend," says David.

David says he did not abuse Halle

"She was mad at me for leaving so she and her Hollywood team just tried to destroy my character.

"It had to be my fault, right?" Berry, 49, eventually corrected rumors David abused her, but he insists "she could've squashed them at the time." David says she let the speculation linger for 15 years — leaving him to explain his innocence to his current wife and children and the kids he coaches in baseball, basketball and football. "I'm trying to be a role model," he explains.

Says a Hollywood insider: "Halle wasn't expecting this. She was taken totally by surprise. She must be fit to be tied. It's been a long time coming, but you can take this as Justice's revenge — and it's pretty final!"

In between David and Olivier, she was married to musician Eric Benet.

FLASHBACK

HEEEEEERE'S CARNAC!

Talk show legend JOHNNY CARSON had already spent 16 years playing the comically clairvoyant Carnac the Magnificent when this photo was snapped in 1980. Johnny would don an outrageous red turban and hold an unopened envelope to his head so that he could psychically answer the question within. He'd announce the punchline in a deadpan manner, and then rip open the envelope to reveal the question and crack up his audience. If a joke bombed, Carnac went after the audience with all kinds of creative curses – including, “May the Shah of Iran seek refuge under your sister’s skirt!”

A musical, magical treasure just for her

Let her know the twinkle in your eyes is there because of her with this Bradford Exchange exclusive that's filled with glitter, shimmer and shine. The silvery base tells her you'll love her "to the moon and back" while star-shaped glitter swirls around a crescent moon that sparkles with pavé style crystals and delights with a dangling heart adorned with a Swarovski crystal. "Always in My Heart" plays at the turn of a key, and a heartfelt poem card is included, too!
